

Saturday morning

	Court	Theatre	Storytelling Centre Library	National Library of Scotland	French Institute
10.00 – 10.30	Registration
10.30 – 11.00		Welcome Ailie Finlay, festival director. Featuring Imogen Kate: The Evolution of a Book Mouse
11.00 – 12.00		Sensory Stories and Accessible Books: Reaching Further Expert panel with Sineag Blane and Linda MacLeod; chaired by Ailie Finlay	Musical Sensory Stories Workshop with Amy Johnston		Pioneering Tactile Books Two-hour workshop with Dreaming Fingers. We will meet at reception and leave as a group at 11am. The venue is a ten-minute walk away.
12.00–13.00		Sharing Books and Stories at Home Expert panel with Pat Graham and Katie Cebula; chaired by Katie Swann	Fun with Sensory Stories Workshop with Ailie Finlay

MORE INFO

Get more details about each event by following the QR code (or search the website: mykindofbook.org.uk)

LOCATIONS

The Court is on the ground floor (where you registered).

The Theatre is downstairs and the Storytelling Centre Library is upstairs.

The French Institute and the National Library of Scotland are each a ten-minute walk away. If you need directions, just ask someone from My Kind of Book!

Saturday afternoon

	Court	Theatre	Storytelling Centre Library	National Library of Scotland	French Institute
13.00 – 14.00	Lunch
14.00 – 15.15		Inclusive Books: An Exploration Workshop with Pat Graham and Alexandra Strick; chaired by Tracey Laing	Creating Meaningful Tactile Stories for Children with a Visual Impairment Workshop with Elizabeth McCann from the Scottish Sensory Centre	An Exploration of Tactile Books Workshop with Lily Stone. If you'd like to walk over to the venue in a group, please meet at reception at 1.50pm.
15.30 – 16.45		Closing Panel Alexandra Strick, Imogen Kate and Lily Stone; chaired by Katie Cebula

MORE INFO

Get more details about each event by following the QR code (or search the website: mykindofbook.org.uk)

LOCATIONS

The Court is on the ground floor (where you registered).
 The Theatre is downstairs and the Storytelling Centre Library is upstairs.
 The French Institute and the National Library of Scotland are each a ten-minute walk away. If you need directions, just ask someone from My Kind of Book!